2003 Style Awards

Fashion Group International of San Diego, Inc. is proud to announce the honorees for the seventh annual "Style Awards" 2003. The theme for this year's gala black-tie event is "Moulin Rouge," which promises an evening of fun, entertainment and glamour. The event will be held on Saturday, February 22, 2003 at the Westin Horton Plaza Hotel in the downtown Gaslamp district of San Diego, beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Award recipients will be selected not only for their highly developed sense of style in their personal appearance or chosen profession, but also for the strong commitment each has demonstrated to the community through leadership and philanthropic endeavors.

Diana Cavagnero, 2003 Fashion Industry honoree.

The 2003 Style Award Recipients are:
Education: Andrea Marx
Fashion Industry: Diana Cavagnaro
Community Outreach: Dr. Ruth Grobstein
Media: Rory Devine and Joe Bauer
Interior Design: Tricia Craven Worley
"Star" Style: Judy Thacker

In addition to the awards ceremony and dinner, the evening includes a VIP reception, silent auction of fashion related items, presentation of scholarships to deserving fashion students, entertainment and a fashion show featuring top local designers and boutiques.

Net proceeds will benefit Scripps Cancer Center and the Ida M. & Cecil H. Green Cancer Foundation and the Fashion Group International Scholarship Foundation. FGI is a non-profit, professional organization whose membership exceeds 6,000 women. Marilyn Dworkin (2002 "Star" Style Honoree) is this year's event chair.

Each year, a tremendous outpouring of community support is responsible for the Gala's great success. The fashion industry in San Diego County is alive and kicking, so we invite everyone to be a part of the celebration. Individual tickets are $100. For information, please call Marilyn Dworkin at 760-891-0888. ■
